The Beginning Roll

Opening of Panorama '92

The Class of Ninety-two started school in September,1979.That's when the memories and the good times began. Our class has LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL since then and doesn't intend to stop.

We have done many things together as well as apart. Every June we have separated and every September we have reunited.

LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL applies not only to the seniors, but to all Weston High School students. We all see things in a different light and have fun doing different things. But no matter what happens, the good times will keep coming and continue to do so.

We have tried to capture all the fun and good times of Weston High in Panorama '92, *LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL!. So look on and enjoy.

Student Life

In some cases, the definition of the phrase "Student Life" has been limited to academics, sports, clubs, and school activities. In Weston High School's case, however, we do our best to extend beyond that limited definition. Despite academics, sports, clubs and activities, Weston students also enjoy the art of chair-stacking; parking lot soccer; alerting all surrounding states that Weston has won yet another football game; and, last but not least, taking advantage of the long-awaited senior privileges.

One must understand that once you become a Weston High School student, the world is your oyster and there isn't a definition long enough to describe all that Weston's "Student Life" involves.

"Oriental Mystique" -- Junior Prom

The date was Saturday, May 11, 1991. The time was 8:00 to midnight. The place was the Weston Town Hall. The event: The Junior Prom.

The 1991 Junior Prom was one that will not be forgotten. April Eldred, Dana Shumaker, and Hellene London were the backbone of this operation, as were Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan, Mr. Ryan, and the class mothers. With the help of other enthusiastic juniors, willing to sit down and cut uncooperative sheets of cardboard, foil, and tubing, the class of 1992 was able to capture the image of "Oriental Mystique."

When all was said and done, it was then time to prepare ourselves to enjoy the masterpiece we had just finished creating. You can never know how long it takes to ready yourself for a night this anticipated, unless you experience it yourself. Well, we did, and we all came out alive.

The first guests arrived around 8:30, while others waited until it was fashionably late to make their appearance. The ladies appeared in a stunning array of formal gowns, while the gentlemen looked impeccable in their monkey suits. One even went so far as to wear a top hat! Will wonders never cease?

Toward the end of the prom, we named the king and queen of the evening. And the winner is.....for the queen's court, April Eldred and Dana Shumaker! And the lady of the evening is .....Hellene London!

RIGHT. Kate Roiter, Jayson Breyan, Jody Renna and Tom Giampapa take a rest during the prom. A long, but fun night it was.

BELOW. Jan Petersen, Will Kraft, Jason Breyan, Matt Emans and Andy Fishburn are perfect gentlemen to a fault. Jan Petersen and Will Kraft seem to find something funny about that statement.

RIGHT. Dorsey Heine, Caitlin Corbiere and Beth Cosimi had the tedious job of cutting up stars for the ceiling. It was the little touches like this that made our prom so spectacular.

BELOW. Chris Plerson, Rob Murray, Mike Foley, Stephanie Pappanikou, Beth Menzoian and Laurie Leisman came to the prom together and enjoyed the evening.

RIGHT. Prom King and Queen, Hellene London and Steve Bonner, were justly nominated. Hellene's amazing artwork combined with Steve's construction leadership could be seen everywhere you looked.

Now it's time to dub thy king for the evening....and for the king's court - or court jesters is more like it, we have Alex Weis and Jim Callahan! And thy new king's name is....Steve Bonner! Congratulations to all of you!

The prom over, the juniors had a choice - either crash the "former" seniors' party, or go to the King's castle for a post-prom party. Most chose the latter and the evening continued.

Our weeks of preparation definitely paid off. "Oriental Mystique" was a night we will all remember!

. . . And More

Prom Preparation

BELOW. You guys look great! Dressed to the "T" on Prom day are Chris Clifford, Ben Dempsey, Jim Callahan, Kent Hibbard, and Ryan Shann.

Once again members of the class of '92 worked together, and were able to create one of the best proms in the history of Weston High. The theme, developed by prom co-chairs April Eldred and Kamilah Brathwaite, "Oriental Mystique" was creative and imaginative to say the least.

After arriving from restaurants all over Boston, promgoers stepped out of their limo's and walked on red carpet up the steps of the Town Hall. The first thing everyone heard was the great music coming from upstairs.The band filled the magical night with music, and almost everyone danced despite the fact that some of their dresses didn't make it easy. The sight of the room was incredible, with hundreds of red,black, and gold streamers draped down from the ceiling, along with balloon bouquets of the same color. But balloons and streamers were the least of it. It was the Chinese dragon, the giant fortune cookie with everyone's name on it, the red and gold Oriental fans and paintings, and the working fountain with live gold fish that created the most sensation and demanded the most time and cooperation among members of the class.

The building of these decorations required weeks and weeks of work, and it was the dedication and willingness of the class to help out, that made them a reality. Friendships as well as decorations were formed at the Town Hall, and every Junior felt proud of the spirit of the class. Many of them said that they liked the construction time best because they felt that the class really "bonded" during this time. And they even got to miss a day of school. Who didn't love that?

The talent and hard work of Prom King and Queen, Steve Bonner and Hellene London, made the prom what it was. Our advisors saw to it that everything went as planned and guided us to create the ultimate prom. "Oriental Mystique" was a smashing success and will long be remembered by the " Incredible Class of '92".

Meet The 1992 "Lifers"

Since the beginning of kindergarten back in 1979, to graduation in 1992, we've been together thirteen years. From Country, to Woodland, to Middle and finally High School. Those of us who have survived all this time are better known as "lifers".

There are so many times to remember as we look back on these years, such as all of the friendships we have made and kept since the beginning. The days of line leaders, lunch mothers, picture lady, and field day will never be forgotten.

There was always someone ahead of us. When we were in first grade, the second grade seemed huge. When we were in third grade, the fifth graders seemed so much older. When we were in sixth grade we couldn't wait to be in eighth, so we could "rule the school". When we were freshmen, we worshipped the seniors. Now we are the top and finally, everyone looks up to us.

Our four years of high school were much more serious than before. Our grades began to count, and everyone had their share of stress and pressure with SAT's, ACH's, and college applications. However, we certainly managed to have a lot of fun. From going to one's first senior party, to the Newport trip, to the auction and prom, to the senior show and graduation, we've done it together.

The most important aspect is that we have stuck together for so long. Kindergarten is so vivid in our minds, it is difficult to believe that it was twelve years ago. When we were five years old, the last thing on our minds was graduating from high school. All through middle school, we could only dream of actually being able to drive. Sixteen seemed so far away.

We have lost many of the original kindergarteners along the way. But what really counts, is the ones who have made it through. There is a certain bond among those of us who have lived here so long. We are the survivors who have made it through as LIFERS!

Your Better Half

A Cheer For The Siblings

ODE TO A SIBLING

Your sister hits you and gives you a bruise.
Your brother make noises that sound quite rude.

They give you the chicken pox, the mumps and a cold.
They tell all your secrets and you wonder "who told?"

But they're there when you need them most of the time.
In the cafeteria, they'll give you their very last dime.

They would never admit how much they care.
But best friends like them are very, very rare.

So this is for you, your sis or your bro.
Just our way of saying, "Hey,

You've put up with your sibling for all these years.
Through good times and bad, laughter and tears.

So here we are as you let out a sigh.
All of the siblings of Weston

Places To Go!!

Our Favorite Hangouts

BELOW. Betsy Kerrigan gives a shy smile, but we all know you can't be shy in the weight room.

Allright, it's 11:00 am, and you're roaming the halls of Weston High School. After looking in a few classes and harassing the poor students who have to sit through lectures, it's time to move on to find something to do. Where else would the free student go, but to hang out in the caf? Most parents believe that if a student has a free, her or she will use it in a constructive way...yeah, right!! Any kid could tell you that "the place to be in a free" is definitely the caf. From reading the various outcroppings of news on the senior windows to watching the great chair balancing acts, the caf is a very entertaining place. Seniors own the rights to the cafeteria. Certain tables, windows, and benches are reserved for them, and when this tradition is broken, bodily removal sometimes has to occur.

Another god-given place available to all students is the nurse's office. At anytime during the day (even at lunch, who in their right mind is sick at lunch?) you can find Cecile's office bustling with students of all ages. Being the senior class advisor, she has made her office a relaxing haven from the college stress world, and as Jim Callahan puts it, "A good place to get some sleep!"

When lunch is over, the next place to hang out is most likely going to be the weight room. From talking to Betsy, or actually lifting the stupid weights,the weight room is full of fun things to do.

Seriously though, there is a place for all students to hang out if they just look hard enough. The caf is always busy with students of all ages. The nurses office is warm and you can always make a cup of tea. The weight room has a friendly person to laugh with. My message to all students is to look around, and find your own special place. Who knows, the attendance office is becoming more popular as a hang out, along with the newly carpeted library. Put it this way, if the inside of the building doesn't please you, then just get the heck out. The parking lot always has a large crowd in it!

—Barbie Atwood

from the past of '92

Remember when pink slips meant a trip on the bus to your best friend's house? What do they mean now? A trip to visit Mr. Gearan because of a class absence, of course. Things have really changed haven't they? We used to take Iowa Tests and never see the scores. Now we take SAT's that determine our college entrance and we eagerly, or not so eagerly, await the results.

As we all know, things don't stay the same. In elementary school it was a big thing to stay after school and now we are lucky to get out of the school before dark.

We all do our own things, but as a class we have done many things together that we have enjoyed.

The past few years have been exciting for the senior class. Before we entered high school, people were told that our class was one of the best to go through the Weston School system. We didn't really prove ourselves during our Freshman year, however. The pep rally that year, was one that the Class of '92, the rest of the school and Mr. MacDonald will probably never forget. Those water balloons really soaked up that day!

Next came our Canobie Lake trip, and all those roller skating trips that never quite got off the ground. That was followed by the first fruit selling event and the Sophomore semi- formal.

Activities Fair

With such a diversity of student clubs and activities to participate in, all Weston High students are destined to find at least one to their liking. For literary buffs, dramatists, athletes, students concerned about the environment , about the future, or about other students--there are groups for everyone. And don't worry young astrologers, even your unique hobby is accommodated. Now THE QUESTION: How can our interested students indulge themselves in the high school's great offering of activities? THE ANSWER: At the annual Activities Fair.

On September 19, leaders of all the clubs left classes early to begin preparations. Before the bell announcing the Fair's beginning, tables had appeared most displaying colorful signs that advertised groups from the Black Student Union, to discussion groups, to the very-popular Triathalon Club . As the student body arrived, lists of prospective members began to fill, leaving it to the leaders to later weed out those who were merely exercising their pen from those who were really interested.

The Activities' Fair is always a relaxing break from the beginning rigors of the new school year. While some students took time to sign up for the Math Team or SEA, many of them were to be found lounging in the warmth of the sun, or chatting with friends about their vacation travels.

Refreshments were a sought after commodity. The seniors sold soda, while the juniors profited with popcorn. There was many a red-stained mouth from Italian ice, a great idea for a sunny afternoon from the sophomores.

The encouragement for students to participate and to create their own clubs is what makes Weston High special, and activities are an integral part of our high school life. The Activities' Fair is where it begins, an opportunity for students to become involved in our school and at the same time cultivate their own interests.

"This is the time to remember, though it will not last forever." Billy Joel describes senior year in a nutshell. This year has been a time for responsibility, for respect, for connecting with others, and also for separation. The last is bittersweet, but without it, senior year could never have been as exciting, or as memorable, as it has been.

As seniors, we led the high school. Barbie Atwood found that, "Teachers respect you. They really listen to what you have to say." Leighton Walker acted as a "big brother" to the incoming METCO freshmen. From the playing fields, to the school newspaper, to the halls, to the classroom, seniors were the most experienced and ready to take charge.

Seniors were thrilled with long-awaited senior privileges. Out the door at 12:46, or taking a lunch break at McD's, seniors ventured abroad from Weston High's familiar halls.

The class has come together during the year. Sherry Pauker saw "senior bond" in action. "A lot of people are realizing that this is our last year together. They're seeing things in their classmates they might have missed before. Friendships are opening up."

The year had its difficult moments: Dan Connolly described "everything funneling into the last two weeks of the quarter." Will Sandalls expressed many people's fear of the unknown to come. "I'm

Every year, students involved in student government have the privilege of attending the Leadership Conference. Not only is it an opportunity to be tempted with delicious food and have our photographs taken by Mrs. Siegel, but it also a time to learn from others and to ponder important issues.

This was one of the best conferences that I've ever attended. A major factor contributing to this was our guest speaker, Angus McQuilken. A 1987 graduate from our very own Weston High School, he is a spirited and energetic person who helped us realize the potential power we all have in our leadership positions. Through humorous anecdotes about his college years as a student leader, Angus showed us several important steps in getting what we want. He advised that we take non-violent, but visible approaches in expressing our opinions.

Mr. Fuller raised the issue of METCO bus fund-raising, which needs a lot of support to continue. Coach Foley discussed the Pep Rally (or the lack of one.)

Using Angus's method of taking advantage of our power, groups started planning ways to try to make changes in our school. Homeroom, underclassmen-privileges, half-Wednesday schedules, holiday-decorating and class rank were a few of the topics discussed.

Thanks to Mrs. Marsh and our parent and teacher advisors for a great day.

Looking Back

We're packing our bags and going away, but our memories will always remain. We have spent twelve wonderful years together, learning, having fun, hanging out and making friends. Now we have to move on, so let your minds wander as you remember some of our good and bad times which I will try to recollect.

We began Kindergarten in Country School as strangers to each other. First, we learned the alphabet and started making friends. Woodland School brought on new challenges and higher presidential fitness requirements. Ms. Keo dressed up as a witch and ate a spider pretzel. We made Wangdoodle hats, celebrated China Night, and stood tall and proud as Ms. Shecter led us through the "Star Spangled Banner."

In Middle School we all loved Lowell, Washington, Quebec and Camp Sargeant. Mr. Bourne opened our eyes to slavery with the film "Roots." Ms. Sweet sadly left us for her newborn baby and Ms. Cooke gladly took over. Did we want a new teacher? Well maybe! Science brought the thrilling memories of Ms. Ashman, Ms. Hall and Mr. Stasik. I still have my "sunboard." Mr. "Chillout" Halpern subbed for Mr. Fratus and Ms. McNally "carved English on granite" and pounded it into our heads.

Then our ultilmate goal was achieved, high school. We had waited three years to "rule."

Mrs. Nickeson and Mrs. Schwartz

Mrs. Nickeson has worked at Weston High School as the Home Economic's teacher since September of 1965. She became an advisor to the Yearbook in 1977, serving as the Business Advisor until 1979. She has been the full Yearbook advisor since that time. We truly think that Mrs. Nickeson deserves our special credit for all the stress and strain that she has put up with these many years.This year she taught five classes during the day, a Desktop Publishing class at night, was the yearbook advisor and the sophomore class advisor. In addition, Mrs.Nick (a.k.a. the 'M & M Lady') was in charge of keeping everyone in the cafeteria under control and in one piece. We would like to thank her for all her help, support, guidance, and especially her friendship for the past four years. Thanks, Mrs. Nick.

Mrs. Schwartz has taught biology at Weston High School for the past fifteen years. She is a great teacher who teaches so you can learn and understand the material, not just get things done. Mrs. Schwartz has formally retired, but even though she is gone, it won't be the last we'll see of her. She will be back in February to take Mrs. Carter's place, and to sub for any absent science teacher. We thought we should say a formal goodbye to Mrs. Schwartz. She is a great teacher who will be missed and is one in a million. Thank you! We will really miss you!

Dedication to Mr. Gearan

Panorama 1992 has been dedicated to a man that we all know and love, Donald Gearan. Mr. Gearan is the Assistant to the Principal and his office, as we all know, is in the Attendance Office.

He stands at the counter quietly every morning listening to student's excuses for being late to school (and tries not to laugh). He greets everyone whenever he sees them and actually waits to hear an answer to "How are you today?" He is the one who checks off all the work slips that come in, to find out how long each student has worked to rid himself of a detention.He signs the senior privilege forms and uses disciplinary actions when necessary.

But even though he ocassionally has to resort to disciplining students, he is still very much liked by all students.He prefers trying to work things out with the students instead of suspending them.

Mr. Gearan is a very caring, tolerant, and understanding person. He is one of the adults that the students feel tries to relate to them. He also has a great sense of humor. Mr. Gearan has worked at Weston High for thirty-one years, coming to school and leaving for home at roughly the same time every day.

Donald Gearan has received much recognition for his accomplishments outside of Weston High School. For example, he was named as The Bertram Holland Man of the Year for his leadership, professionalism, and distinguished service to the Massachusetts Secondary School Administrator's Association and the Youth of the Commonwealth on May 7, 1987.

Having reached his retirement age as of December (the 13th to be exact), the school is letting him graduate with us, the class of ' 92, in June. We are very proud and honored to have Mr. Gearan as a member of our class. We will never forget you, Mr. Gearan.

We were very saddened by Mr. Gearan's unexpected illness,but so grateful that he is recovering. We await your return to school and fully expect you to march with us on Graduation Day.

Senior Class Advisors

TheTop Twenty Reasons Our Class Advisors Are The Best

1. They are always there for us.

2. They are cool.

3. They freeze their behinds off at all the football games.

4. They put up with us on the bus to all our class events.

5. They are open-minded.

6. We are able to talk to them.

7. They will drive miles to get the best prices.

8. They donate every Tuesday afternoon to us.

9. They suffered at Newport beach with us two years in a row. Is there going to be a third?

10. They cooked a darn good burger at the Senior BBQ.

11. They stayed very late and helped everyday for a whole week before the prom.

12. They worked hard to keep us on leashes and out of trouble.

BELOW. Mrs. Sullivan, Mr. Ryan, Mrs. DeLea, Mrs. Whitridge and Mrs. Connolly, our class advisors. You guys are the best!

RIGHT. Along with our other two class mothers, Mrs. DeLea has worked behind the scenes, helping us through our four years of high school. Being present at almost all of our class events and supporting us are just two of the many things they do.

13. They devoted four years of their lives to us.

14. They knew how to make us work hard with a smile.

15. They were generous.

16. They were always busy doing something, but always had time for us.

17. They were "wild and crazy party animals."

18. They managed to keep our class in good graces with the town.

19. They held our hands all the way through high school and will continue to through graduation, (even if it is only to keep us on our feet.)

20. They will be glad to see us graduate on June 5, 1992!

The Class of '92 is a very special class and the "Good Times" have never "Stopped Rolling." The Senior Section is a sampling of what the class is like.

All of us are individuals and we each have our own ideas. That's one of the best things about us. Our diversity is amazing, but even though we are so different, we have always worked well as a group and had a good time.

Our class has been together for thirteen years and we have made many memories that will "last for a lifetime."

TO: THE CLASS OF '92
Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof: and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit. Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of fools. Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost no inquire wisely concerning this. Wisdom is good with an inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that see the sun. For wisdom is a defence, and money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it. mom,dad,helen,cyn Ecclesiastes 7:8-12 cs,ec,lc,ab,hk,mk,ab,ek I loveU! Weston High School was so much fun. I wish I could stay another four years. Sometimes I wonder what I would have done with myself if I didn't come to Weston High.
Hmmm!
Maybe there wouldn't have been people who stuck their big noses into my friends and my personal business instead of doing their job and paying attention to our in-school work.

What you don't know won't hurt you!

Mom and Dad, thanks for your support and care.

A memory is a special treasure
Which endures and gives us pleasure,
Something we can cherish, for we know-
Recalling certain times and places,
Tender moments, smiling faces,
Always brings our hearts a warming glow. Though time may pass, a memory stays, Reminding us of happy days at Weston And of the people who have touched our lives– – –
Of favors done, and love expressed,
Of those who've stood above the rest,
A memory is a treasure that survives.AB

Underclassmen

The Faculty and Underclassmen of Weston High School have each made their own contribution to the school and when they leave will have left their mark.

The faculty is a group of special people who do so much more than most of the students would ever expect. Those teachers and faculty that go that extra bit are those who make a difference.

What would a high school be without the students? Our student body is small, but the school would be really dull without us.

—Danna DiGesse

One More Turn . . . .

We've survived our first three years at Weston High School! Junior year, for the class of 1993, was a lot like Outward Bound.

Physically, we persevered while washing millions of cars, transporting motorcycles, looms and gumball machines for the auction and constructing absolutely the most outstanding prom.

In addition, juniors excelled in every sport and in all theater productions.

Mentally, we were right on target with the national testing schedule. We TACKLED PSAT's, SAT's, achievements and AP exams.

We are looking forward to a summer filled with rest and relaxation.

Come September, we'll be more than ready for our final year at Weston High. We can only hope that Weston High School will be as ready for us.

Rolling Along . . . .

The class of 1994 is moving on up in the high school and has had a superb sophomore year. Coming back to school in the fall, we were ready to get busy and do our work. But the sophomores have done much more than homework this year.

We helped organize several Recreation Department Activities' nights for the Sophs and Frosh. We attended a rocking Celtics game and sold Weston Wildcat hats at the Pancake Breakfast. We had dinner at Boston's Kyoto Steak House and attended the long awaited annual Sophomore semi-formal at Henderson House. We showed the rest of the school that the sophomores really knew what they were doing.

Although we're not on the bottom rung of the ladder anymore, we're still climbing our way up to the top and the Class of 1994 can't wait for two more great years.

Faculty and Staff -- 1992

When one thinks of faculty, the thought that often comes to mind, is that these are the people that make sure your vacation is busy, by having a project due the day classes resume.

When one thinks of staff, the thought that comes to mind is, "Hey, this guy helped me work off my detentions."

However, when the two are combined in one section such as this one, they seem to balance each other out, don't you think? For instance, the faculty members give the detentions, while the staff help you dispose of them.

Where would we be today if we didn't have both of them? (Probably on the beaches of Miami partying our brains out -but that's not the point.) These people make us what we are today. Sure, our parents did most of the rearing, but when we're in school, we are given a new set of disciplinarians, a set which attempt to guide us through these years of education. We call these people the faculty and staff of Weston High School.

On behalf of the Senior class, we thank you for all your support and guidance through the years.

—Meri-Elizabeth Fulchino

"A great teacher never strives to explain his vision, he simply invites you to stand beside him and see for yourself."

—Rev. R. Inman

BELOW. Mr. Nield is hard at work in the Attendance Office. He has been really busy since becoming Mr. Gearan's replacement.

Mrs. Majors Remembers:

"I came to Weston High School in1966 as a student teacher for the Biology teacher, Mr. Sullivan. Then I went away for a year, and returned part time."

What do you think?

What do you think Mr. Beevers is thinking right now?

FACULTY FEEDBACK

The question "Why do you teach?" was asked of several faculty members. Here is what many had to say:

"I teach because I love to learn, and teaching is the best way to find out what is important, fascinating, and true in life."

"I love kids, especially teenagers, and I love being part of their process of growing up."

"I love working with people and watching them grow."

"Because playing with ideas, images and feelings is the best of all possible sports."

"Because I love teaching, the molding of minds, the enthusiasm of adolescents."

"Because I like young people. Because I want to make a positive contribution to mankind. Because it's so much fun!"

" I enjoy the appeal of adolescents. The enjoyment of reading material. The challenge of the classroom and constant personal renewal."

"To learn, to grow."

"I love the give-and-take with teenagers. It's energizing."

"I love taking care of people - the best part is when they get well and the care works!"

FACULTY FEEDBACK

When we posed the question, "What is the most extraordinary thing a student has done?" the faculty recalled some amusing scenarios:

"This wasn't in Weston, but one sunk her teeth into me, one took a punch at me, one tried to climb out a third story window, and one refused to cut his hair, and thus failed to graduate."

"When students come prepared, excited, and willing to take chances."

"Extraordinary things happen everyday. I am continually surprised by leaps of intuition, insight, compassion, and personal risk-taking."

"Led a revolution!"

"A couple of years ago, a senior picked a verbal fight with me, as part of a deal to stage a moral dilemma for his classmates, and carried it out so convincingly that the class became uncomfortable, but it also raised essential questions about the injustice of a teacher picking on a student. Thanks to him, it was a very exciting and revealing experience."

"Remained silent!"

Sports

When the statistic for the percentage of students participating in school sponsored sports is as high as it is in Weston, you are bound to have some outstanding athletes.

And that Weston does! We have some very talented and very enthusiastic athletes. And one of the very best things is that even if you aren't an All-Star athlete you can still participate and enjoy, you are not made to feel inferior.

As the recipient of the prestigious Dalton Award, presented by the Boston Globe, Weston is proud and happy. The sportsmanship showed by all is to be greatly respected by athletes and non-athletes.

What a Season!

When the senior members of the 1992 ›otball team were in eighth grade, they ere introduced to Coach John DiBiaso. e had just been appointed the new var- ty football coach for Weston High School, ›ming from Everett. DiBiaso vowed to his unch of aspiring eighth graders, that he ould make them Superbowl champs.

The 1992 Wildcat football team fulfilled that vow for the coach and themselves this season. The team compiled an 11-1-0 record, even beating Wayland on Thanksgiving Day, for the second year in a row. As captain Chris DiBenedetto declared, "It is better to eat a turkey dinner after a win against Wayland."

The Wildcats went on to beat Holliston in the Superbowl to become Division champs.

The team was led by "player of the year", Cy Butler, who proved to be a extraordinary asset to the team. Other valuable players were co-captains, Chris DiBenedetto and Sekou Allen. Sekou was selected an all-scholastic player. Also an integral part of this year's championship march were the other dominant seniors: Rob Murray, Will Sandalls, Tom Giampapa, Brian Collins, Alex Weis, Jim Callahan, Kimani Dilday, and Ryan Shann.

This year's season was definitely a special one that provided a tremendous final send-off for the seniors, a great psyche-up for the juniors and an inspiration for the freshmen and sophomores. It was one season that will not be easily forgotten for many years to come.

Another Hit Season!

Weston Field hockey had an outstanding season this year. The team was full of many enthusiastic seniors and talented underclassmen. On a given day, it would be common to see the team dressed in anything from pinnies to pajamas, and cheering out in front of the school before homeroom.

This spirit lead the 'Cats to beat their nemesis Bishop Fenwick twice; and to defeat Acton-Boxboro for the first time in eleven years. The tri-captains—Suzy DeLea, Dorsey Heine, and Caroline Choi—led their team to an undefeated DCL championship. The team continued on to become Division-One-North-Sectional Semi-Finalists, losing only to Danvers in sudden-death overtime.

We had the two top scorers in the league, who help to lead our powerful offense. An impenetrable defense played a key role for our team, which was unscored on in regulation time.

The field hockey team received much recognition in the DCL.They had six DCL all-stars—Suzy DeLea, Dorsey Heine, Cindy Mohammed, Caroline Choi, Charlotte Kuperwasser, and Karen Conway; three honorable mentions— Donna DiBona, Robyn De Lacy, and Caitlin Corbiere; Best Sportmanship; and Coach of the Year—Marie Butera.

Much of the success of our season can be attributed to the inspirational coaching of Miss. Butera- -otherwise known as "the Bute." We'd like to thank her and our many fans and supporters for making this season such a memorable one.

Alive and Kicking! Boys Soccer

A season of injuries meant a season of disappointment for the Boys Soccer Team. Franco Bruno, the third boys soccer coach in four years, quickly organized his new team and instilled in them high hopes and positive feelings.

The team played relentlessly during the start of the season, anchored by a powerful offense made up of Lev Kurkjian, Toru Bando, and Sophomore Matt Delduchetto, and an experienced defense consisting of Paul DeLacy, Steve Bonner, Ben Dempsey, and Ben Smith.

The hard work, however, seemed pointless, after losing tri-captain and starting goalie, Dan Jacobson, to a serious leg injury. But Weston did its best to keep going.

Freshmen Mike Carr and Stefan Lysack played gallantly, and we will surely see more of them in the future. With Jim Campos in goal and Ben "Spaz" Smith on the field, Weston continued to play hard, but with little success. Numerous injuries were sustained by several players, but the big blow came when tri-captain Eric Lu was lost with only three weeks left in the season.

Enter Kent Hibbard. As the only surviving captain, Kent carried the team to the end, and did his best to keep their spirit high.

With all of this adversity, we only have one thing to say."Good luck to next year's team, and remember: Weston Boys Soccer–we can still get the girls!"

Smooth Moves! Girls Soccer

For the first time in six years, the girls' soccer team accomplished what they had been working for all season: entrance to the state tournament. Many said that it could not be done due to a small team and nagging injuries, but with sheer determination and spirit, the team made it all the way to the semi-finals.

The highlights of the season were the two wins over Newton South, winning under the lights at both Wayland and Bedford; and of course the tournament. The first tournament game was played in Georgetown. Weston came out strong and played well throughout the game. Unfortunately, Weston couldn't get the ball into the net against Masconomet.

Although the loss to Masconomet was a disappointment, it did n't ruin the fun we had on and off the field during the season. Only our soccer team can fully appreciate the following: Candyruns, "revealing" busrides, the Weston bladders, sally selfish, Papa's, mono, fluid pockets, 7-up, pumped balls and many more memories.

Next year's team should see a successful season with many returning players and some excellent younger players rounding out the team. One of the bright spots during the season was the J.V. team. Led by rookie coach, Nicole Kondi, this years J.V. team went undefeated for the first time in Weston's history.

With all of the talent in next year's team they will go farther.

In Step to Win! Cross Country

Girls Team

The Weston Girls' Cross Country team doubled in size this year and members, new and old, pulled together to come in second in the DCL, with a 4-1-0 record.

Led by captains, Junior Jacqueline Wohlers and Senior Shira Hammann, the team came in fourth in the Eastern Mass Divisional Championship, qualifying for the All-State Meet for the third time in the history of the team.

Wohlers came in first in four of the team's five DCL meets, earning a DCL All-Star title. Freshman Karen Yen, showed promise for the future, winning the freshman race at the Middlesex News Invitational. The team worked together, with Hammann, Yen, Sophomore Maria Valle, and Junior Michelle Owens running in a pack, pulling each other onward.

This year's season saw the Weston girls very intimidating with a team of thirteen, and the prospects look good for next year, with eleven seasoned runners returning.

Boys Team

The Boys' team, after an initially rocky start, pulled together for a stellar finish. The boys lost to Wayland in regular DCL competition, but went on to beat Wayland in four later meets.

For the second year in a row, and the second year ever, the boys captured first in the Eastern Mass Divisional Championship. Senior Captain Luke Kiskaddon, led the team, garnering fifth place in the state championship Division Two race, with the seventh fastest time in the state. Luke as well as Senior Co-Captain Alex Goldman were DCL All-Stars.

Senior Matt Emans ran with a knee injury for several key finishes, working with Junior Damien Job. Junior James Wheaton came next, and Senior Dan Bromberg, seventh man, decided two key meets in Weston's favor when the first six runners tied.

The Red Tide "Tops!"

"If you want to be the best . . . You have to out work the rest," was the Red Tide's motto as they entered their first undefeated season since 1974. The highlight of the season was defeating A-B, and becoming league champions.

This phenomenal team was lead by a strong group of seniors. Tide senior Asha Banker has been a hard worker and leader in practice for four years. James Vaughan is another hard worker who scored many points in the breaststroke. Neil Dalal is a talented sprinter who provided depth on relays. After a humble beginning his freshman year, Doug Levine improved to rank among the top ten breast-strokers of all time. Brad Whitridge, the first Weston All American in seventeen years, raised all diving records to scores that will last for years to come. Jeb Gutelius, the recipient of the 1991 most improved swimmer award, scored in almost every event. Senior Payson Corbiere, "the guy with the most rise for his size," was a standout sprinter all season and won the 50-free at the All-league meet. Co-Captain Caitlin Corbiere, a butterfly and distance freestyle specialist, provided outstanding leadership for the girls sectional champion team. Another distance free-styler and the other captain, Mike Foley, anchored many relays to victory this season.

A strong underclass clan played an important role in the Tides16–0 season—Dave McFarland, Peter Haas, Steve Davenport, Cece Sullivan, Chris Melling, Kelly Ferro, and Margaret O'Brien.

To finish off the season, the girls were Eastern Mass Sectional Champs and the boys were North Sectional Champs. Yet there was more to the season than just breaking records and winning every meet. It was the hard work, dedication, and enthusiasm of the swimmers, divers and coaches that made this season so memorable.

With four back-to-back DCL wins over Lincoln Sudbury, Concord Carlisle, Bedford and Acton Boxboro, plus the Medfield tournament Championship and Dover-Sherborn under their belt, the Wildcats were in a great position entering the Division Three North Championship Tournament. After a stellar performance over Georgetown in the first round, the team went on only to be eliminated in a closely matched contest with Dom Savino.

The Wildcats are already looking forward to another great season with returning players including All-Star Cy Butler, slam-dunk Dwayne Simmons, shooting guard Levon Kurkjian, stellar Keith Mohammed, and hardworking freshmen Khadj Edison and Mike Carr.

The "Cats" Play Hoops

Through rocky roads and disappointing defeats, the Girl's Cats Hoops team has learned to play hard and to always give 110%. Led by junior co-captains, Dima Reda and Trisha DiBenedetto, the team pulled together playing each game with their hearts.

They were given plenty of help along the way from the new coaching staff of Joanne Ruane and assistant Kathy Thompson, coaches who were always there providing positive motivation and the ever–sought–after blow pops.

The season started out on a high note with wins over Chatham, Mt. St. Josephs, and a thrilling defeat of arch-rival Wayland. However, the sweet taste of victory soon faded as the girls went on to face tougher opponents: Acton–Boxboro and Boston Latin simply out–reached and outscored the smaller 'Cats squad. One highlight did come toward the final weeks when Weston bested Lincoln–Sudbury in overtime, as the girls shifted into fourth gear and never said die.

The Wildcats look to next season with optimism. Although they are losing center Shira Hammann, who has played for the past four years, the squad was comprised mostly of sophomores and juniors who will return next year to reach for a Dual County League crown. Leading the 'Cats from the backcourt will be Weston's 1991-92 all–stars Dima Reda and Stacy Jupiter, while Jen Weisman, Holly Gutelius, and co–captain Trisha DiBenedetto will bring back their talents under the basket with skillful post moves. Ann Gowdy, Maria Valle, and Akosua Cook will be back again to excite the crowd with their fabulous outside shooting.

Togetherness was the theme for the 1991–92 season because they girls never really separated themselves into two teams. Together they practiced, played, and had fun. No one will ever forget the dinners at Papa's or Bertucci's or the ice cream place somewhere in Newton. The record doesn't show what a great season it was, but the team will keep their heads high and come back ready to score.

A New Wave of Wrestlers

The Weston High School Rasslin' team once more added to their great winning tradition and proved to be a force to be reckoned with in the Bay State. This success was the result of the guidance of Coach Baldanza, Coach Tuna and Coach Jack. Nor should we forget the importance of the 4 "D's" these coaches stressed. These are as follows:

Dedication — Many wrestlers gave up precious weeks of their summer vacation to go to wrestling camps, while other kids were at the beach.

Determination — Though we inevitably faced stronger opponents, we never got pinned, thus saving points for the team.

Discipline — Chocolate cake, ice cream, all looks so good, but when you have to make weight, it's pickles and sugar-free Jell-O.

Desire — Look in our eyes when we go out onto the mat.

The Wildcats wrestled their way to fourth place in the section. They were led by Champion Jeff Michael; Big G (Guillermo Kennedy), second; tri-captian David Harding, third; tri-captian Ryan Shann, Tchano Hwang and Ken Doyle, fourth; and tri-captian Brian Sullivan, fifth.

This year's Marlboro Tournament champions should be even stronger next year and ready to put down their nemisis Wayland. The services of Paul De Lacy and Ryan Shann will be missed, but ready to step into the breach are underclassmen Todd Whitridge, Tony Baldanza, Brian McShane, Eric Gleason, and Mike "the Doctor" Baldanza. The team will also benefit from the return of Winston "the Kid" Ware who was sidelined this year with a broken ankle.

Running up a Storm

The season was short. The season was intense. But the Indoor Track Teams once again made this winter season a sweet one. Under the inspired coaching of John Monz and Jeff Robbins, and with the command of captains Lucy Craig, Tammy Peeples, Michelle Birgeneau, Luke Kskaddon, Steve Bonner and Alex Goldman, the Weston track family couldn't avoid stellar success.

Our short regular season was crammed with both personal and cooperative achievement. An undefeated league record earned the track girls their third straight DCL victory; and a 7–1 record and close second-place for the boys, left no one unsatisfied. From seniors to freshmen, hurdlers to the two–miler freaks, Weston continued to achieve personal bests and victory. Both teams ran the rest of the Dual County off the track in their All–League meet triumphs, and left the Wayland Field House fully psyched to take on State level competition.

Weston track left no training method untried—from Coach Robbins' choreographed videos to Zen-like visualization sessions, to afternoons of snowball fights and team trips to Harvard Square—but our togetherness obviously paid off. Both the boys' and girls' teams worked together to capture second place in the State Class D relays, qualifying for Nationals in events such as the Boys' distance medley and the Girls' 4 X 200. The following week, Weston gave Class D their best and took home two trophies—first place for the guys and second for the girls, qualifying for the State meet in many events. Our boy hurdlers, Steve Bonner, Adam Hyde and Greg Lee, took three of the six place at the class meet, racking in Weston points, as did the Boys' 4 X 2 mile and 4 X mile relay teams. Senior Luke Kiskaddon won the mile, and went on to place fifth in the State, breaking the WHS record.

Senior Tammy Peeples returned from injury to high jump 5'4", earning second place in Massachusetts and State–wide success in the hurdles, amazingly using her opposite leg. She went on to compete at Easterns in the triple jump. The Girls' 4 X 2 mile relay of Suzy DeLea, Lucy Craig, Michelle Birgeneau and Junior Jackie Wohlers qualified for the State Meet and took home fifth place. They went on to run this relay at the New England Meet in Providence, R. I. Juniors Lori Leisman and Alissa White placed in the Class D meet in the shotput and the 300, as did the 4 x mile relay of Shannon Walker, Suzy DeLea, Alissa White and Michelle Birgineau. Overall the winter season was a rush of success after success, and all runners, throwers and jumpers were part of the pride.

Activities

It is Tuesday at the beginning of Conference Period and you don't know where to go, there are so many meetings available.

At any random time during a Conference Period, you can walk into a room and find yourself in the middle of a meeting that you didn't intend to go to. There are numerous groups that you can join and be a part of if you would like to.

There are Art clubs, writing clubs, and sports clubs. There is something for everyone, no matter what your interests are.

The saying, "Whatever floats your boat," is a way to describe the variety of groups available to Weston High School students.

Announcer's and Triathalon Clubs

Announcer's Club

There goes the bell -- a mad dash to homeroom.
For classes are beginning very, very soon.

The PA booms through out
the school,
Ready to blast us with the latest rule.

The morning announcements
start our day,
Thanks to those students who receive no pay.

And from Mr. Minigan, the fearless scrub,
We now can present the Announcer's Club.
—Chandra Mohammed

There were a record breaking 243 triathletes last season, most of whom knew how to ride a bike. Amazingly, our numbers were fewer this year. Thanks to Coach Foley, only the real athletes are participating.

With this smaller group, it was easier to fit the team into the pool and on the track for practices. We look foward to some good upcoming competitions.

Points of View

Black Student Union and Bridges

Black Student Union

This year the Black Student Union dance, called "Roots, Rap and Reggae", will go down in the Weston High history book of dances as the most "successful" of dances.

The monthly pizza sale has been discontinued because cafeteria lunch is being served on half-Wednesdays. But it is fondly remembered.

BSU funds may be low, but action has been taken to remedy this situation. We have teamed up with Weston students in a citrus fruit sale. The money from this sale will go toward paying for the Boston five-fifteen bus.

The seniors that are graduating will be missed. The incoming freshmen will definitely fill their places, but not their shoes.

—Cindy Mohammed

ABOVE. Nadeem Ghali, an active member of Bridges, gives some interesting input to the meetings.

Bridges

One of the oldest and longest-running programs at Weston High is the Bridges program. This multi-cultural discussion group has followed us from the eighth grade and is still going strong.

Thanks to the support and guidance from Mr. Fuller, a Bridges meeting is one of the best ways to discuss our problems in a close-knit and confidential environment.

Thanks to the leadership of the very witty Mr. Fuller, the Bridges group will continue to be a staple in the Activities section of Weston High.

Talent Galore

Theater Company and "Twelfth Night"

Theater Company

One out of every six students at Weston High is a member of the Theater Company. With these numbers, we're bound to be incredible.

The year started off with the critically acclaimed production of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." Outstanding performances from Jen Mason, Shawn Elinoff, Eryn Johnson and Nathan Gray inspired the audiences to standing ovations and unstoppable compliments.

Led by senior president Eryn Johnson , vice-president Heather Moylan, secretary Jen Mason and, of course, the amazing John Minigan, the Theater Company has, in addition to acting, gone on "fun and educational" field trips. We plan to end the year with a banquet.

Johnson credits much of the success of the Theater Company productions to Mr. Minigan. "He pushes us to our limits. We're always the best we can be because of that." Other Theater Company members are quick to add that even when things look REALLY rough, Mr. Min always manages to pull things together.

Theater Company is "electric", "stupendous" and most of all, a lot of fun. The group unites both on and off the stage to have, in the immortal words of Mariah Minigan, "a roarin' good time."

Future Business Leaders of America

This organization is composed of students who are interested in the business world. Many of the enthusiastic members have the goal of eventually starting a business, managing it, and selling products, or services, for a healthy profit.

All of us involved in FBLA miss the guidance and leadership that Mrs. Hoyle provided us over the past years. But after a slow start, the club has been reorganized and is "back in business" under the competent advisorship of Mr. O'Connor.

Activities that have been conducted include organizing and attending in-school lectures given by successful business executives within our community. In the future we plan on taking field trips to various business establishments throughout the Boston area.

—Tom Armstrong

Stockyard

Stockyard is the school store that is run by the students under the faculty advisorship of Mr. O'Connor. These students buy shares and receive dividends based on the profits. The officers purchase the wares to be sold: coughdrops, life savers, mentos, certs and all those things that keep you going through the second half of the day.

This year we have also brought in some new items such as Snickers bars, Reeses Peanut Butter Cups and a new line of sweatshirts. As a result, the year is proving to be very profitable.

The members of Stockyard wish goodluck to the organization during the next few years.

Maelstrom and Wildcat Tracks

Maelstrom

If you want your writing abilities to shine through, whether you are a dramatist, poet or comic, Maelstrom is the place to go. Tuesdays, during Conference period, you can join your friends to sample and vote on the latest student literature.

"The best part of Maelstrom," says advisor Miss. Busse, "is that anyone can submit their material. It gives each student an equal opportunity to show other students what they can do." Miss.Busse and editors, Karen Conway and Caroline Choi, are faced everyday with a load of new stories and poems.

Each year Maelstrom gets betterwith last year's edition the largest ever. It was packed with comedy and tragedy.

If you are not a writer, you can always submit your favorite drawing. Give this year's edition a shot!!

Wildcat Tracks

"Hey you guys," says Stan the janitor as he taps his watch indicating it is nearly 11:00p.m. on a Thursday night and time to lock up. As Doug and I glance around the Thelma Hoyle Memorial Desktop Publishing Room, we can see remnants of our eight-hour night. A bag of pretzels, McDonald's wrappers and a six pack of Sprite clutter our miniscule working space. However, among this mess are thirty to forty well-written, meticulously proofread and edited articles that represent the hard work and perserverence of our staff.

Our newspaper is much more than the twelve-page issue that we hand out every five weeks. It involves weeks of preparation and hard work by students with little help from faculty members.

Wildcat Tracks is not just twelve pages of type, it is about achieving goals, working together, and above all, making sure that the news is reported accurately and on time.

Art Club and Spain Trip

BELOW. Jen Davidson, Ellen Walpert and Sarah Benjamin work on their homework in the sophomore hallway.

Art Club

The Art Club has finally pulled it together after many years of wishful thinking. We started off the year with excitement and high hopes of painting pumpkins for Halloween, having a December holiday art sale, and taking a cultural trip. The Cambridge Busch Reisinger Museum trip enjoyed limited success, but was entertaining, nevertheless.

The Art Club looks forward to Fine Arts Week when we will be concentrating our energies on having all students become involved in some artistic endeavor. Plans include possibly painting the cafeteria in a joint effort with the Student Council, the annual trip to the movies, and other individual projects.

The Art Club is a great way to exercise artistic talents or just to take pleasure in the works of others. Our advisor, Mr. Moran, inspires all of us with his enormous colorful canvases which are scattered around the room. With some hope and some luck, today's members may be tomorrow's Rembrandts and Monets.

—Stacy Jupiter

Spain Trip

In April 1992, a total of 15 students, and 5 chaperones left for a nine-day cultural experience in Spain. The participants this year were: Jenn and Megan Davidson, Hellene and Shauna London, Heather Mustard, Kate Roiter, Mishy Dumont, Daphne Barrett, Dan Connolly, Dewey Golub, Ben Dempsey, Ann-Noelle McCowan, Emily Hastings, Julie Belkin and Mr. and Mrs. DaCosta-Poremba.

Spain offered visitors a unique, three-ring spectacle this year—Seville's EXPO '92, the Barcelona Summer Olympics and Spain's capital, Madrid. Students had the opportunity to partake in two of these, in the process coming to realize that the flamenco dancer and the bullfighter isn't all that Spain has to offer.

Pep Band

Football fans were treated to one of the best musical sideshows in Weston's history, courtesy of the 1991 edition of the Pep Band. The Gridders agree that these musicians played no small part in the success of their team. Long-time director, Mr. Mori—along with the aid of Industrial Arts teacher Mr. Duncan—designed and constructed a drumset platform which enabled the band to expand their repertoire from tradition marching band music to other works.

Season long favorites included "Time Out," "Dynamite Drum" and "La Bamba." Our school song, "Washington and Lee," put to words last year by Mr. Mori, became the symbol of the football team's drive to the Super Bowl. "Washington and Lee" which is traditionally played after every Wildcat touchdown, left many an opponent's ears ringing.

—Chris Pierson

Orchestra

The High School Orchestra finished the year very strongly. Under the direction of Mr. Mori, the Orchestra completed a very succesful Winter Concert.

Senior Caroline Choi was asked to participate in the National Honor's Orchestra, one of the few students ever so-named in Weston's history. Choi played Saint-Saen's "Introduction" and "Rondo Capriccioso" in the Winter Concert.

Many students are returning next year, headed by Frosh superstar Christina Evans and Junior Ben Pring, bringing promise that 1992 will be just as strong. However, Caroline Choi, Dan Bromberg, James Vaughan, and Chandra Mohammed will all be missed.

Science Team and Math Team

Science Team

This year's science team finally exceeded the speed of light by managing to capture several exhilarating victories. From carbon dioxide powered cars and contraptions that defy gravity, to laser shoots, the Science Team had a blast using their creative talents and nearly driving Mr. Reed to a nervous breakdown.

Team members were especially proud of their ability to leave preparation until hours before the event and still triumph over opposing forces of ignorance. Our favorite pastime was forcefully convincing the judges that our unusual inventions really did conform to the regulations. Had it not been for the inflexible laws of Newton and Einstein, we surely would have been national Champions.

Outstanding leadership was displayed by the seniors Matt Emans, Rurik Vandevenne, Tom Armstrong, and Brad Helies and they were backed by a strong group of underclassmen.

—Matt Emans

Math Team

The Math Team has a long-standing tradition of excellence. Once again, advisors, Mr. McCowan and Mrs. Gonzales assembled a team capable of competing in various categories such as algebra, calculus and geometry par excellence. The team has been engaged in a season-long battle for first-place, in the small school category, with Swampscott .

Led by captains Matt Emans, James Vaughan and James Wheaton, the "Mathletes" have shown much enthusiasm and ability.

Big Brother-Big Sister & Peer Counseling

Peer Counseling

Peer Counseling is made up of juniors and seniors that dedicate their time to help eighth graders. They spent two hours a week for eight weeks learning about social issues that young adults face everyday. From drugs, to sex, to date rape, the Peer Counselors are taught skills that will help them inform the eighth graders of the issues that face teens today and how to deal with them. The peer counselors try to not only inform the eighth graders of the issues they were presented with but also try to help them with any other issue that they might be troubled with. For example, what's it really like in high school?

—Sherene Shenouda

Big Brother- Big Sister

The Big Brother-Big Sister program has been a great success this year. There are many students going to one of the two Weston elementary schools, volunteering to help in a specific class-room.

The one hour a week spent at the elementary school helping the younger students teaches the high school students a lot.

The program branched from the Peer Counseling group, and this year was open to the whole school. The advisor David Cope, with the help of Jeb Gutelius and Adam Hyde, did a great job organizing it. Many students are actively participating, making the whole program something that we hope will continue for many years.

Social Awareness & Foreign Exchange

Social Awareness Club

Members of Social Awareness all share a strong desire in taking an active role to improve the community, world wide as well as locally. The club follows through with their objectives by making nearly weekly visits to volunteer at Rosie's Place, a shelter for the homeless in Boston.

When a teacher or student is ill, Social Awareness always busies itself making get-well cards or placing phone calls of encouragement.

The Social Awareness Club entices Weston High students with home-baked goods during bake-sales. Through their efforts they collect enough funds to continue the sponsorship of a Sudanese child and the child's village. This year the club is sponsoring another child in need, this time a boy from the United States.

The commitment and compassion of these students has made the Social Awareness Club a success as they continue to make a positive impact on our community.

—Stacy Jupiter

Foreign Exchange

Every year we send two of our fellow students to Rombas, France and Porto Allegre, Brazil. Through the Weston-Rombas Committee, Weston has been sponsoring the education of students abroad for forty years.

This year Greg Lee returned from his Brazilian experience just in time for Christmas. James Vaughan will soon follow in his footsteps. Meanwhile Cris DeGuzman has been learning the French culture.

We are enjoying Sandrine Bortoluzzi, from Rombas, and Andrea Pampanelli, from Porto Allegre this year. They have done a great job fitting in here, not an easy task to accomplish.

Now We Have Heard It All

S.E.A. & Cheerleading

SEA

"Recycling is the way of the nineties"— is a slogan backed by concerned members of Students for Environmental Action. Through the ingenious efforts of SEA and the Student Council, Weston High School has continued its pioneer program to reuse and recycle. Under the leadership of co-founders Jill Foley, Sunil Gandhi, and Peter Haas, this year SEA has begun experimenting with the use of plastic trays in the cafeteria instead of conventional styrofoam.

The ambitious students of SEA aren't content just to concentrate their energy on recycling. Another main focus is the preservation of the Earth's natural environments. Their concern extends from marsh wildlife in Weston to the tropical wilderness in the rain forests of distant Belize, where the proud SEA members have already purchased twenty-two acres of land. SEA hopes to equal that purchase this year, while generating revenue from the sale of recycled paper products and tasty "Rain-forest Crunch", designed to satisfy our sweet tooth.

The large numbers of dedicated students involved in SEA show that environmentalism is not just a fad, but a real concern facing the world today.

Cheerleading

Although the basketball and football cheerleading squads were smaller this year they did a great job. The football squad was there in the warm and cold weather and the basketball squad never got tired of sitting on the benches across from the team members. This past summer a few members of the each squad went to cheerleading camp to enhance their already great rowdiness and style. Great job girls!!!!

Girls Glee & Boys Glee

Chorus

"Your music had better be memorized by the concert," rings out the familiar threat from Mrs. Denise Taggart, leader and inspriation to the talented singers of Weston High. However, it is only because Mrs. Taggart is so concerned about her work that she is able to produce such quality performances by bringing melodious music to the ears of appreciative parents and patrons.

It is no easy task to prepare over seventy enthusiastic and sometimes trying high school students for a concert, while at the same time teaching Middle Schoolers and rehearsing District pieces with Weston's rising musical stars.

The annual Winter Concert was a huge success highlighted by the entertaining "Jingle Bell Rock," sung with a flair by Weston's select group of female a cappella singers, the Pralines, and the production of Mozart's Coronation Mass performed by Mixed Chorus. Hours of work were spent preparing the fifty-page score which featured Weston soloists.

But all of the dedication paid off when the moment of truth arrived and Mrs. Taggart unveiled her newest masterpiece. Her work shone just as bright for the "Music in Our Schools" Concert in March and the Pops Concert in the spring.

When you pass by the auditorium and hear the sweet sound of music vibrating through the rafters, you know that the Weston Singers are hard at work spreading their appreciation of music throughout the school.

Concert Choir

Concert Choir members are a select group of very dedicated singers. The members practice weekly and are required to attend Girl's Glee, Mixed Chorus and Boy's Glee.

During the past year, this Chorus ensemble has participated in more activities than ever before. We continue to enjoy their carol singing during the Christmas holidays.The Winter Concert was a huge success, drawing rave reviews, as was the Senior District Competition.

Chorus and Concert Choir members trotted over to the Middle School for a benefit concert. They have also provided the chorus to several current pop singles, during most of our field trip bus rides. Where would we be without them?

Many members of the senior class have been active in chorus for the past four years, and will be greatly missed when June comes around.

Mixed Chorus

This choral group, as the name indicates, is a combined group of men and women singers who join this singing group because they like to sing. They receive wonderful training under the tutelage of Mrs. Taggart who sets very high standards. This group is the largest singing group in the school, and from it come the members of many of the smaller, more specialized groups.

National Honor Society & Global Perspectives

Global Perspectives

Global Perspectives is the name given to the publication of Weston's foreign language department. This newspaper attempts to introduce and familiarize Weston students with foreign cultures in an effort to help them gain a better understanding of their own culture. While pursuing the contents, one finds the work of language students at the high school, the yearly events, fascinating accounts of the adventures of Weston students abroad, plus much more.

Large amounts of work occur behind the scenes for the staff of Global Perspectives. There are articles to write, interviews to conduct, lay-outs to be designed, and editing to be done. Without the leadership of sophomore editor-in-chief, Darren Levy, and the guidance of faculty advisor, Mrs. Janet Wohlers, there would not be a final paper.

As the staff of Global Perspectives knows, there is no greater feeling than to hold the fruit of your labor in your hands.

The members inducted during their junior year include: Dorsey Heine, Eric Lu, James Vaughan, Caroline Choi, Matt Emans, and Dan Bromberg. Those inducted in their senior year include: Sherry Pauker, Alex Goldman, Jenn Kushner, Dana Shumaker, Asha Banker, Kate Roiter, Nathan Gray, and Karen Conway.

What A Year!!!

"Panorama" — Yearbook

This year's Panorama staff ran into many hurdles in the process of producing the 1992 yearbook, but came out smiling from every one. Well, most of them, anyway. Five deadlines, with an average of forty-two pages each, meant we worked late some nights, used up many vacation days and a lot of our spare time. Look for staff members during a free period and you would be apt to find them in the Yearbook Office busily working.

The staff this year was made up of a few very diligent workers that were willing to put their all into producing the 216 pages of Panorama '92.

Advisor, Mrs. Nickeson, spent many long hours at home helping us to get the dead-lines done on time. We could not have done it without her.

The production of a book is a lot of work, but with a good crew it can be fun racing for deadlines, while scraping the bottom of the picture barrel.

A yearbook is like a time capsule that you will (hopefully) have for many years. We have tried to make this a memorable one—a book that you will be proud to show to your children.

—Danna DiGesse

BOVE. Junior Jackie Finard was a elpful addition to our staff— arning what she could for next ear.

Advertising

The Advertising section of the yearbook provides the largest source of revenue to pay for the yearbook. It also provides a place for the seniors to see what their parents have to say about them and a place for our business patrons to advertise.

The members of the advertising section of the yearbook have worked hard to accumulate the ads that are in the book. And these ads are very special to a lot of people. Read these and enjoy them. One may be for you.

—Danna DiGesse

To the following friends: forget good luck, it's beyond overused. Ad, Sherryr, Ann, Gregg, (Noooo) Jacobson, Greg, Steve, JM, JS, CK, Eryn & Willy: May your lives be filled with peace, love, money and utter happiness. AND TO EVERYONE: Thank You-- "I get by with a little help from my friends" and "If you need a friend, I'm sailing right behind."

N-Man: 10 years, and really what a long strange trip its been. We've changed together from 2 insecure boys who walked to the bus stop on opposite sides of the street, to big men who are going to conquer the world.

Big D: My oldest buddy: we've been through it all from fire stations & cranks, to the Accord and street painting. Thanx for unforgettable memories Dave.

Eric: I'll finally admit Er, you've always been better at every game from Leaf to Double Dribble and even to basketball. You're going to be a rich man (working for me.) Thanx for everything and kick ___ in life.

Jebber: My twin, words can't express how grateful I am for your support. You've always stood by my side through swimming and the LM and Calc traumas. Thanx bro. I'll always be here for you.

HTM: Thanx for that fateful day in the library and forever being a part of my life. "You fill up my senses." I love you forever; you're the best.

Lauren: My first "girlfriend", thank you for seeing what I have inside of me, now please see that you're an amazing person too. Give yourself more credit; (you sure can't drive) but you're an incredible girl.

Donna: It's only been 2 years, but I feel like I've known you all my life. You're one person who I need not say good luck to, because you're going to get everything you want in life. Never lose that "inner best" you have.

Jenn: I really "cherished" your help and friendship this year. Thanx for your support and advice. The ring, bracelet, and earrings have all been ordered (from Gucci!) Oh, and 2 kids . . . that's it!!

Mere: You know I didn't mean to be hard on you all these years (you have to admit my bike was a little better though.) Be valedictorian at Tufts , and hey Mere, marry someone who's just like me.

Hellene: You put together one hell of a show. Best of luck BABE!!

Dan: Thanx for making me laugh. Don't become the next Godfather, I'll give you a job.

I Love You All Love, Doug

Little Doug how fast you grew
And went the way all children do.
I watched with pride as you felt your way.
And tested your strengths in work and play.
We shared our fun as buddies do,
When you were hurt, I hurt some too.
I 'll always treasure those memories past,
Could wishes but make the good times last.
But boys were meant to grow up strong,
And Daddies can't just tag along.
So I hope you know and under stand I'm always near if you need a hand.
And of all life's gifts could I choose but one.
It would be a father's love for his precious son.
L'Chaim – To Life Dad

Dear Warm Club Founder,
I came into this world and there you were– my brother, my friend. Ever since that day you have been guiding me in the right direction. These fourteen years growing up with you will never be forgotten, only cherished. I love you and wish you the best of luck at college.

Colophon

Panorama is an annual production of the yearbook staff of Weston High School, 444 Wellesley Street, Weston, Massachusetts 02193. The theme of this year's book was "Let the Good Times Roll." The book was distributed during the week of May 18.

Panorama was printed by Jostens-Hunter Publishing Company, 2505 Empire Drive, P.O. Box 5867, Winston-Salem, North Carolina 27113. The company representative was Arnie Lohmann. The book contained 216 pages and 375 books were ordered. The trim size was 8 1/2 by 11 inches; it was printed on 100 pound gloss paper stock with black ink as the base color.

COVER AND ENDSHEET. Panorama's cover was professionally designed by Josten-Hunter artists and individualized by the yearbook editors. It used navy blue material with a silver-screen design. Individual names of seniors were foil-stamped in silver.

COLOR. Sixteen pages in the opening section were printed in the four-color process.

PHOTOGRAPHY. Senior portraits were taken by Tim Morse, Morse Photography, Carlisle Massachusetts; or were handed in by individual seniors. Underclass pictures were taken by O'Connor School Pictures, Tewksbury, Massachusetts. Candid photos were taken by the yearbook staff photographers, by members of the Photography class, by Martha Bancroft, and by Roberta Siegel, Weston, Massachusetts. Numerous candid photos were contributed by students.

EXPENSES. Panorama was published on a budget of approximately $20,000. Monies were raised through patron and advertisement sales and the ever popular sale of M&M's . Copies of the book were sold, in the fall, at a cost of $32 for seniors and $35 for underclassmen.

Who's Who and What's What

"SCANDALS AND POLITICS"

The coup in the Soviet Union began on August 19, 1991. An eight man committee, led by Vice President Gennady Yanayev who maintained Gorbachev was ill, took power from President Mikhail S. Gorbachev. As Russian President Boris Yeltsin called on Russians to resist the coup, tanks and other military gear moved into Moscow.

President Bush nominated Clarence Thomas, a 43-year-old conservative Republican, to replace the retiring Justice Thurgood Marshall on the Supreme Court. Nearly three months later he was confirmed by the U. S. Senate by a vote of 52-48. But it was a tumultuous confirmation process. After a series of public hearings, the Senate Judiciary Committee split 7-7 on his nomination. Just days before the full Senate was to vote, some serious allegations of sexual harassment were raised. Professor Anita F. Hill, a 35-year old law professor from the University of Oklahoma and former assistant for Thomas at the E.E.O.C., claimed she was the victim while the two worked together about ten years earlier. The Senate commitee reconvened and heard about three days of riveting testimony from Thomas, Hill and a group of supporters from both sides. The full Senate then debated the issue and voted to confirm the U.S. Appeals court judge to the nations's highest court.

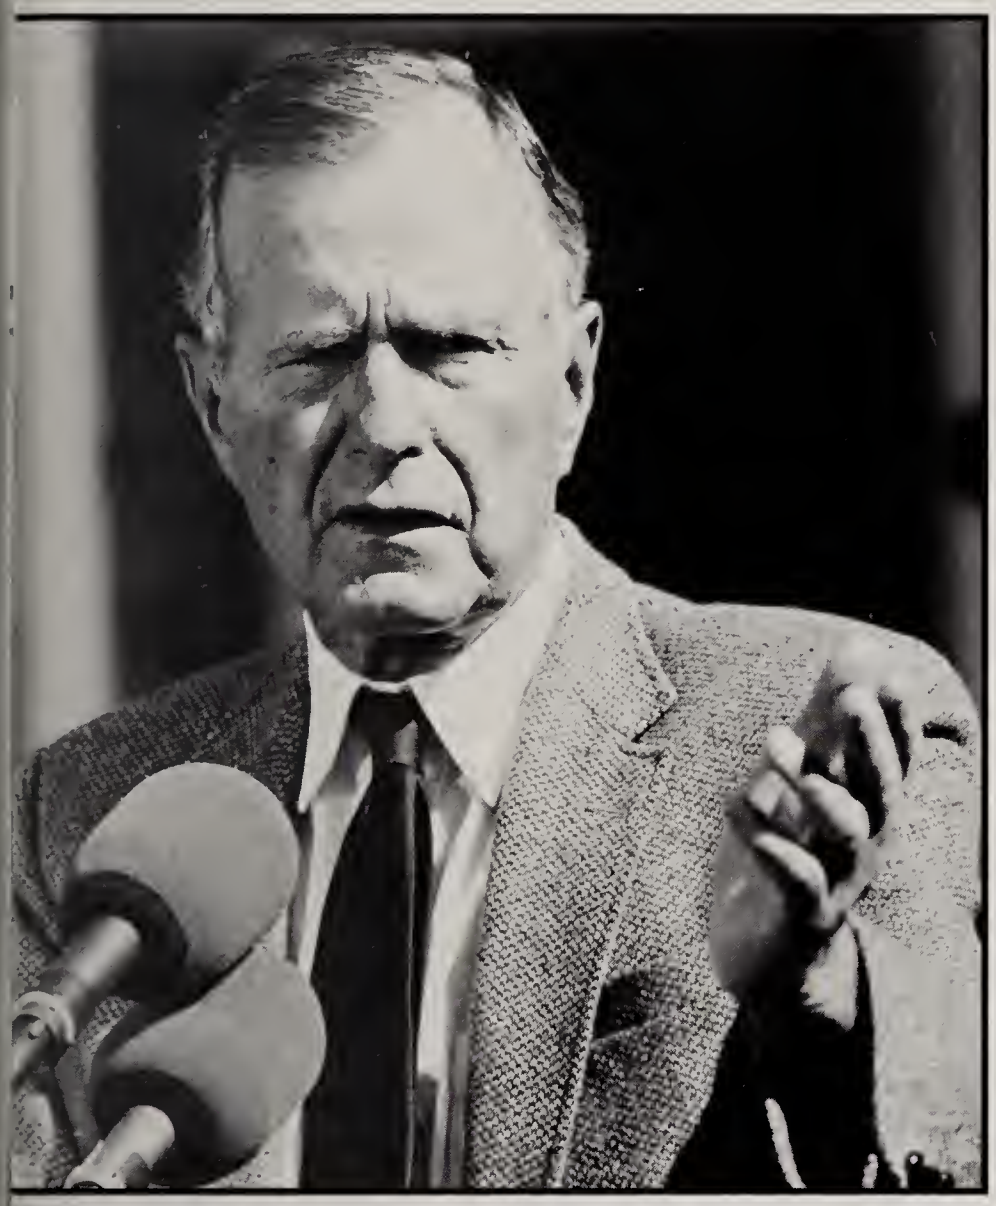
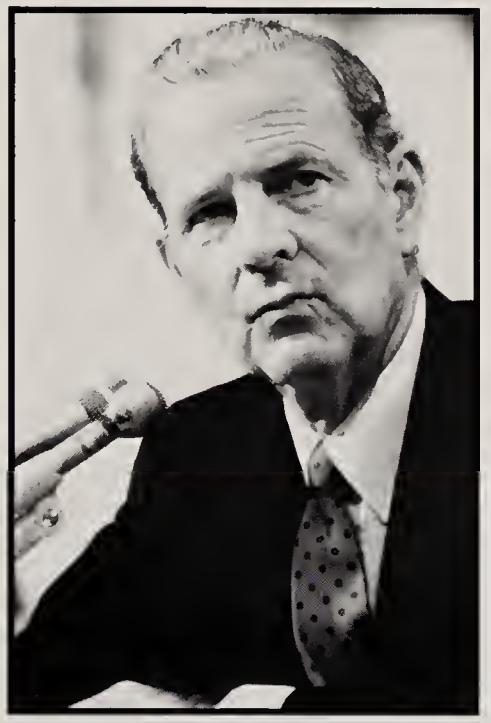
"THE PEOPLE IN CHARGE"



George Bush



James Baker

Barbara Bush

Dan Quayle

As the school year began in September, 1991, President George Bush was trying to get his nominee to the Supreme Court.

Vice President Dan Quayle, the boyish looking second-in-command, was criticized as a liability to the presidency. But Quayle survived the criticism and worked well with President Bush.

Secretary of State James A. Baker was President Bush's representative on dozens of diplomatic trips around the world—but primarily to the Middle East. A Peace conference in the Middle East was his primary mission. A lasting peace there has been the goal of many presidents, but President Bush was hopeful that it would become a reality during his administration.

Barbara Bush was constantly in the public eye as the wife of the President of the United States. But in quieter times, the 66-year-old grandmother says she yearns for the day when she and the president can spend more time doing "selfish things" with one another and their grandchildren. However, for now she is content to be the First Lady of the United States.

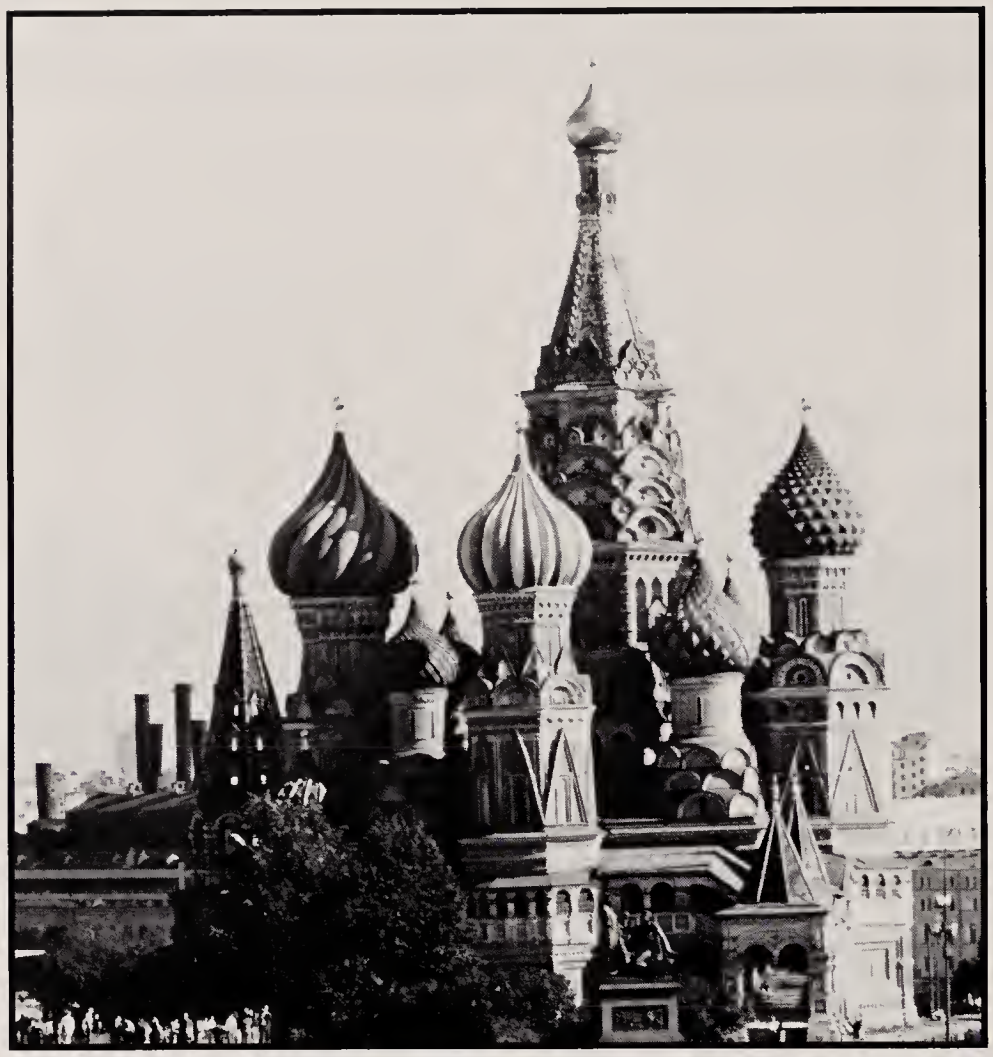
"INTERNATIONAL UNREST"



Victory Demonstration in Red Square

On August 20, President George Bush and members of the European Community demanded Gorbachev's return to power.

On August 21, the leaders of the coup were reported to have fled Moscow. Tanks and armored personnel carriers moved away from Russian Parliament and leaders of the national legislature demanded that Gorbachev be returned to power. The Communist Party denounced the takeover.

On August 22, Gorbachev returned to Moscow before dawn and reassumed power. The coup may have ended communist rule in the Soviet Union, but it began a series of reforms and changes that will continue for years to come.

South African President F. W. DeKlerk tried to move his country closer to the United States by loosening his tough stand on apartheid. Bush lifted some economic sanctions and the International Olympic Committee ended a 21-year ban on South African participation in the Olympics.

One of the many rallying points with envrionmentalists was the Brazilian rain forest. Thousands of square miles of forest were being cut down and environmentalists from all around the world petitioned governments, held rallies and led marches to stop the devastation. They also sold "rain forest candy."

After nearly seven years as a hostage, Terry Anderson was released on December 4, 1991. Anderson spent 2,455 days as a hostage in Lebanon. He was the longest held American hostage. He is shown here arriving in Wiesbaden, Germany, being greeted by his sister, Peggy Say.

Civil war broke out in Yugoslavia. The war unraveled this nation of six divergent republics, two of which -- Croatia and Slovenia -- declared independence from the federation in June, 1991. All six were held together under the leadership of President Tito. But Tito's death in 1980 and the crumbling of Communism's powerful cement throughout Eastern Europe and the emergence of forces clamoring for democracy and ethnic self-determination set loose Yugoslavia's forces.

One of the biggest changes of the year was the one in the Baltic states. Three Baltic states, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, declared their independence from the Soviet Union.

Faced with widespread opposition to her proposal for a national referendum to approve a new 10-year American lease on the Subic Bay Naval Station in the Phillipines, President Corazon Aquino accepted a compromise. It allowed for a three-year American withdrawal from the huge military base.

The failure of the Soviet coup left Fidel Castro and his island nation somewhat isolated. Cuba had relied heavily on the Soviet Union for aid. Now, with troubles of their own, the Soviet aid to Cuba was in doubt. But after 32 years in power, Fidal Castro remained a towering figure in Cuba. Almost 60 percent of the Cuban population was born after he came to power in 1959.

"NEWS MAKERS AND SHAKERS"

Paula Abdul

Bonnie Raitt

Country superstar Bonnie Raitt swept to the top of the charts with her hit album "Luck of the Draw." She is pictured here greeting her fans at a recent concert.

Arnold Schwarzenegger, the body-building, action-adventure actor, was a big hit in the highly succesful movie "Terminator 2: Judgement Day." At a cost of more than $90 million, it was the most expensive movie ever made. Some of Schwarzenegger's earlier movies included "Twins" and "Terminator." He is shown in this photo in front of an image of his wife, Maria Shriver.

Arnold Schwarzenegger

Paul Simon

He isn't a big guy and h

Natalie Cole

Guitarist Nuno Bettercourt of the rock group Extreme designates "Get the Funk Out" as the Boston quartet's theme song. Why not? The song from the band's second album -- Extreme II—is an irresistible blend of blazing guitars and soaring four-part harmonies that are mixed with everything from horns to piano to rap.

Extreme

Magic Johnson

Natalie Cole, the daughter of Nat "King" Cole, remade 22 songs that her father had made famous in her latest album, "Unforgettable." One of the goals of the 40-year-old singer was to be recognized for her own talent, a goal she has certainly accomplished.

Magic Johnson, the famed Los Angeles Lakers Basketball star, announced he was infected with HIV, the virus that causes AIDS. Johnson made his announcement to a stunned press conference in Los Angeles.

Compliments of the Yearbook Staff

Rolling Up the Red Carpet

The spring heat, sunshine, and longer days mean many things to the people of Weston High School. To the seniors it means goodbye, to the juniors it means the final year has arrived, to the sophomores it means the junior prom, and to the freshman it means there is someone else to pick on. But most of all it means the end of another school year.

This year has been highlighted by many events. The Judge Thomas case, the Kennedy–Smith rape trial, the Olympics, and the deunification of Russia are just a few things that have made the '91–'92 school year something different from that of the year before.

We have had other unusual things happen this year, such as the unexpected early retirement of Mr. Gearan, with Mr. Neild taking his place; and Mrs. Schwartz going in and out of retirement. Nor can we forget the football team going to the Superbowl,the field hockey team going to states, the basket ball team winning the Medfield tournament, the swim team finally beating Acton-Boxboro, topped by many achievements of the WHS athletes.

A school is nothing until you look at the people. People make the school. You would know this if you ever came to school on a day off. Dreary, isn't it? The school changes every year as one class graduates and another takes its place. Just as with past classes,'92 will leave and '93 will step in, and the class of '96 will become a part of WHS—changing the whole dynamic of the school.

It has been a fun year that will long be remembered, but as the school year and the yearbook come to a close, "LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL."

Class of 'Ninety-Two

The senior "Lifers" have been with each other for the past twelve years and have fared pretty well. With numerous additions and subtractions along the way, the graduating class of 1992 was formed. With every activity we have encountered, the class has grown closer. Graduation will be the final bonding activity.

Saying goodbye is never easy but it always has to happen. The class of '92 will say farewell with tears and a white celebration on the town green that will be forever etched in our minds. This is goodbye and good-luck to the graduating class of 1992.
